RUNNING INDUSTRIAL OPERATIONS AT THE SPEED OF AI

November 10, 2026

6:00 PM-9:30 PM

Eastern Time

Every manufacturing leader knows the feeling. The schedule is set on Monday, and by Wednesday a supplier slips, two operators call out, and your biggest customer changes the order. Most AI tools will tell you what went wrong. The agentic enterprise goes further, with AI that plans, adjusts, and acts within the guardrails you set, so your team spends less time reacting and more time leading.

Join fellow industrial manufacturing executives in Cleveland, a city built on making things, for a candid evening over dinner. We'll compare notes on what's actually working, where humans should stay firmly in the loop, and how to turn constant disruption into a lasting advantage.

No slides and no sales pitch. Just good food, honest conversation, and peers who understand the pressure. Seats are limited.
