THE CISO CHALLENGE: REDUCING RISK ON A REDUCED BUDGET

December 13, 2023

3:00 PM-4:15 PM

United Kingdom Time

Security teams globally have felt the pinch this year and as we prepare for 2024 a reduced budget and doing more with less, is on the agenda for most enterprises. But what does this really mean for CISOs and their security teams? And what should they be thinking about? For this intimate, virtual gathering we will be bringing together industry experts as we deep dive into the implications of reducing budgets, and the various approaches that organisations should be considering to get this right. Join us as we explore why high spend on new, “shiny” security tools should be replaced with strategic decisions on maximising the performance of existing tools, and optimising resources. Discover strategies that will help you extract more value from existing vulnerability tools and how by optimising your approach to managing existing platforms, you will not only reduce your team’s overheads cost, but your network’s breach risk too.
