Retailers worldwide are facing a surge in organised retail crime and sophisticated in-store theft, amounting to upwards of £2.2b billion in losses in the UK market alone (BRC), with France and Germany reporting up €7.2 billion (TAPA EMEA). But while threats are evolving and losses are increasing, many security systems remain stuck in the past—siloed, reactive, and impossible to scale. Join our roundtable, to learn how your org can unite Loss Prevention, Operations, and IT teams on a single, AI-powered cloud platform. Discover how to transform your security from a cost centre into a proactive data engine, using real-time alerts and proactive insights to safeguard your people, reduce theft and protect your bottom line - while also delivering data to help you optimise your store's performance.
