Agentic AI and the Future of Enterprise Automation

1:30 PM-1:55 PM

Agentic AI is rapidly emerging as the next evolution beyond generative AI, reshaping how organizations approach intelligence, automation, and customer engagement. As industries shift from experimentation to enterprise-scale adoption, there is growing demand for domain-aware, autonomous AI agents orchestrated across both horizontal and vertical functions.

Part of Capgemini's ResonanceAI Framework, OrchestrateAI is an industry-first platform designed to accelerate enterprise transformation through Agentic AI leveraging Cloud, Data, and AI, built to deliver value across all stages of agent adoption.

AWS Transform with Capgemini Engineering Tools

2:00 PM-2:40 PM

AWS Transform is a comprehensive modernization framework that facilitates the migration of legacy systems—including mainframe, VMware, and .NET—into scalable, cloud-native architectures on AWS. It supports composable, modular modernization tailored to enterprise needs.

For mainframe modernization, AWS Transform helps decouple monolithic architectures and reengineer applications using cloud-native services. When combined with Capgemini's tools—CAP360 (portfolio analysis), BREAD (business rules extraction), SmartXform (code transformation), and SmartQA (intelligent testing)—it enables deep insight, automation, and seamless integration across the modernization lifecycle. This approach accelerates transformation, reduces risk and cost, and supports future-ready operations.

Accelerating Mainframe Modernization with Agentic AI

3:00 PM-3:45 PM

Legacy mainframe systems are at a critical inflection point for financial services and other industries. As organizations face mounting pressure to innovate, reduce costs, and respond to rapidly changing customer expectations, the need to modernize these foundational platforms has never been more urgent. Agentic AI is transforming this landscape—enabling enterprises to automate complex processes, accelerate migration, and unlock new levels of agility and efficiency that were previously out of reach.

Join us for an interactive panel where industry leaders share real-world experiences modernizing legacy mainframe environments. Hear how financial services executives have navigated the challenges of large-scale transformation—using automation, AI, and cloud innovation to unlock agility, efficiency, and measurable business value. Gain practical insights, lessons learned, and strategies to accelerate your own modernization journey.
