Executive Dinner

7:10 PM-8:50 PM

Join Capgemini and AWS for an exclusive dinner and executive discussion on how public sector leaders are moving beyond AI experimentation to drive measurable, enterprise-scale transformation.
While the promise of generative and agentic AI is clear, senior leaders face a critical mandate: delivering genuine operational value while managing strict security, compliance, and trust requirements. This session brings together senior government leaders to explore how to successfully deploy AI capabilities at scale by balancing rapid innovation with robust governance.

Why You Should Attend:

Scale with Confidence: Learn proven frameworks for moving from AI pilots to trusted, enterprise-wide deployment.
Maximize ROI & Value: Discover actionable strategies to measure, track, and unlock concrete business value across public services.
Mitigate Risk: Navigate data privacy, security, and ethical considerations without slowing down operational adoption.

Final Remarks
