AN EVENING WITH ENGINEERING LEADERS

May 14, 2026

5:30 PM-9:00 PM

Eastern Time

Join a curated group of engineering executives for a private dinner and real conversations about what AI is actually doing to your engineering organization. No presentations, panels, or slides. Just candid conversation with people in similar roles, navigating the same challenges in AI & engineering.

We'll explore how teams are approaching AI challenges across their engineering organizations:

- Real-world use cases from enterprise teams
- How leaders are scaling AI while maintaining velocity
- Practical lessons from what's working in production

If you are responsible for how your engineering organization performs in the AI era, this is the conversation worth having.
