EVOLVING FROM VULNERABILITY MANAGEMENT TO THE RISK OPERATIONS CENTER (ROC)

October 21, 2026
5:30 PM-9:00 PM
Eastern Time

Security teams are inundated with thousands of software vulnerabilities, while boards and C-suites demand answers framed in financial and operational risk. Traditional Vulnerability Management focuses on raw CVE counts, creating friction between IT Ops and Security. This discussion explores the shift toward a Risk Operations Center (ROC) model—unifying asset criticalities, threat intelligence, and vulnerability telemetry into a single, business-aligned risk score.
